West Salem Fire Suits Are Non-Suited In Court Today

VOLUME X, NUMBER 160. LA CROSSE, WISCONSIN. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1913. PRICE TWO CENTS

WEST SALEM FIRE CASES NON-SUITED IN COURT TODAY

Attorney for Insurance Companies Makes Motion After Admitting Alleged Illegal Contract

NONE TO BE TRIED THIS TERM

All Damage Actions Resulting from West Salem Fire Will Go Over Until Next Session

ADMITTED SOLICITING BUSINESS

Alleged to Have Agreed to Pay All Expenses Thereby Closing Unlawful Agreement

Following claims by the attorneys for the Chicago and Northwestern Railway company to the effect that the agreement, by which Attorney Arthur Barry, Milwaukee, secured the cases of the Concordia and other fire insurance companies against the Chicago and Northwestern railway, was illegal, Attorney Barry this morning immediately made motions to non-suit his own cases.

At two o'clock this afternoon four of the cases were non-suited and none of the West Salem fire cases will be tried at this term of the Circuit court.

Mr. Barry took the stand in the case of Mercereau, et. al. vs. the C. & N. W. Railway company. This was one of the long list of suits brought by the insurance companies, with citizens of West Salem against the railroad to recover damages resulting from the disastrous fire which swept the village of West Salem two years ago. Mr. Barry testified to service of papers and notices.

Then Attorney E. M. Smart of Milwaukee, who, with Attorneys D. E. Riorden, Wausau, and George H. Gordon and W. F. Wolfe, La Crosse, is defending the railroad, took the witness in hand.

Solicited Business

Mr. Barry admitted having solicited the business of the insurance companies in the suits and admitted having written a letter offering to pay the expenses in the cases and asking for forty-five per centum of the damages awarded. The insurance company, it was brought out, later agreed upon a one-third division of damages.

Immediately after these admissions by Mr. Barry attorneys for the road pointed out to the court that the contract between Barry and the insurance company was illegal.

Judge Clementson, presiding, asked for time to decide and wanted arguments.

Mr. Barry was on his feet instantly with a motion for a non-suit. This afternoon the case of Mercereau, et al., vs. the Northwestern, together with four other suiits, were non-suited.

The result of this morning's turn of affairs is that none of the West Salem suits will be tried at this court. Whether or not Mr. Barry will proceed to enter a legal agreement with the insurance companies and notice the cases for trial at the next term is not known.

CONSERVATION BATTLE NOW ON

Pinchot Charges Water Power Trust Has Packed National Convention for Profit

WOULD OUST OLD FORESTER

Finish Fight to Get Rid of Bull Moose Leader Is Waged by Water Power Barons

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Charges that the fifth conservation congress had been "packed" by the water power interests and the open admission of the anti-Pinchot faction that they expected to overthrow the former forester and organizer of the convention as a leading spirit in its deliberations, were elements of a battle royal in today's session.

Answering Pinchot's charge that the water power interests had packed the congress against him, his opponents alleged "packing" by Pinchot in the naming as delegates of many members of the forest service, still loyal to their old chief.

Pinchot warned the congress that the General Electric company and nine other great groups control 65 per cent of the country's water power and declared that immediate action must be taken lest these interests get complete monopoly control of water power, and with it a significant political power. Urging a finish fight on the issue, Pinchot concluded:

"If the public rights cannot be recognized without conflict, then we shall have to fight, and if we have to fight, now is the time."

Majority and minority members of the committee agreed that franchises to water power companies should be made with a time limit and the government should have a fair return for the grant.

Urging the increase of forest patrolmen as a means of checking forest fires and condemning the California "light burning" method, the forest fire committee reported an annual toll of seventy lives and $25,000,000 from forest fires.

WOMEN PUT IT UP TO PARTIES

Will Demand Suffrage Plank in Every State Platform in Wisconsin Next [illegible]r

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—That every party planning a platform before the people of the state during the ensuing year be requested to incorporate a plank favoring woman suffrage, these planks to be formulated by the executive committee of the state association at the proper time, was the body of a resolution adopted at the first session of the Wisconsin Suffrage association at its twenty-eighth annual convention, held here this morning. Speakers declared it was necessary to increase the general educational work of the association and showed the importance of urging an amendment to the United States constitution, so that no sex discrimination shall be made as a qualification for voters.

Mrs. Henry M. Youmans of Waukesha, president of the Wisconsin association informed the executive board at its meeting on Tuesday evening that on account of other duties she did not want to accept the presidency next year. Mrs. Youmans is a member of the board of normal regents and assistant editor of the Waukesha Freeman.

The board made several concessions and will provide a private secretary for Mrs. Youmans if she will accept the office for next year.

The nominating committee appointed was: Miss Gwendolyn B. Willis, Milwaukee; Miss Ada James, Richland Center; Mrs. Luther, Madison; Miss Harriet, Kenosha; Mrs. Ben Hooper, Oshkosh; Mrs. Charles Morris, Berlin, and Mrs. Edna Chynoweth, Madison. The committee will report Thursday morning, when the officers will be elected.

MURDER BORN IN HOME OF POVERTY

Bessy Wakefield's Parents Dwell in Hovel and Can't Read or Write

"SHE'S JUST LIKE HER MOTHER!"

Mother of Condemned Husband Slayer Weeps as Child Sings Baby Song

NEW HAVEN, Con., Nov. 19.—Three hours from New York, the richest city in the world, and one hour from one of the greatest universities in the country, live an American born man and woman who can neither read nor write, and whose lives have been one constant struggle for bread. The man is Frank Webster, father of Mrs. Bessie Wakefield, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of her husband, William Wakefield. The woman is the girl's mother.

The shack which is the Webster home, is tucked away against a hill at the north end of Lake Quassapaug, near Middlebury, Conn. One room serves as kitchen, dining room and living room. The ceiling is low. There is not a picture of any kind on the rough painted walls and four or five old chairs and a rough wooden table constitute the furnishings.

This is the type of twentieth century civilization Bessie Wakefield knew. The state of Connecticut has reached down into this hovel from which she sprung and is about to strangle her to death, under the law of which she never heard until brought into a court room with James Plew, who killed her husband.

Child's Song Brings Tears

The entire surroundings of the Webster home bespeak dire poverty, but out from the terrible conditions, little Clara Belle, Mrs. Wakefield's daughter, stands as a veritable flower in a garden of woe. As her grandmother today told of the hardships Mrs. Wakefield had known, and of her hopes that she might yet be saved from the gallows, little Clara Belle climbed up on a chair nearby and began to sing softly, something about "My Baby, My Baby." This was too much for Mrs. Webster. Tears sprang to her tired eyes, and she clasped Clara Belle to her, weeping and murmuring: "Just like her mother; just like her mother."

Georgie, the boy, is quiet and serious. Mrs. Webster said Wakefield kicked him when he was a baby and his back pains him so at times that she has to rub him for hours before he can go to sleep.

Thinks Daughter Innocent

"I will never believe that Bessie had a hand in the kiling of Will Wakefield, even though he did abuse her, and starve the children," said Mrs. Webster. "She was too tender hearted. She clung to Wakefield even when he was treating her the worst, because she loved these children so. He often threatened to kill her, but she remained with him for the children's sake."

Webster then told of finding Wakefield near the road one day with a gun. He was practicing shooting at a telegraph pole. Webster said he asked him what he was doing, and Wakefield said he was seeing how good he was with a gun, "as he might want to use one."

Plew Controlled Her

Mrs. Webster told how Bessie kept house for Plew and Wakefield had his meals there. Her sense of morals was not high. The conditions under which she grew made this impossible. Plew, a member of the notorious "Juke" family of degenerates and criminals, was kind to her and her children. Wakefield abused her. Toward the last Mrs. Webster said Bessie seemed to be absolutely under the control of Plew. None of the Websters or Bessie ever heard of hypnotic influence, but Mrs. Webster said she knew he exercised some strange power over her daughter.

GRANGE SCORES WILSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A federal suit to dissolve an alleged "jewelers' trust" was filed in the district court this afternoon. Among the defendants are the National Wholesale Jewelers' association and the National Association of Manufacturing Jewelers.

REBELS DEFEAT RECOGNITION

Murderous Conduct at Juarez and Victoria Puts Constitutional Leaders in Huerta Class

CARRANZA REJECTS HALE ALSO

Refuses to Negotiate Unless Envoy Is Given Credentials Which Wilson Declines to Give

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. — The summary execution of federal officers at Juarez and the massacre of the entire garrison at Victoria, Tamaulipas state, by constitutionalists under Gonzales, today complicated the Mexican situation. Coupled with the reported defiant attitude of the constitutionalist leader, Carranza, has made almost impossible recognition of the belligerent rights of the revolutionary forces.

Certain close advisers of the president who have been using their influence to have him revoke the neutrality which prevents the Carranza forces importing arms from this side of the border, have abandoned that plan. They are now urging that neither faction in Mexico be recognized and that they be left to fight their war of extermination, this government remaining passive after making it plain that the leaders will be held personally responsible for any outrages offered foreigners.

Senator Bacon, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and Secretary of State Bryan both saw the president today. They discussed Mexico, but refused to be interviewed afterwards. The president has received a lengthy report from Dr. William Bayard Hale at Nogales, but all information about it is withhld.

No official of the government would confirm press reports from Nogales that Carranza had demanded that Dr. Hale produce credentials. It was emphatically stated, however, by officials who have been closely following the situation, that no such credentials will be issued.

When the Mexican congress convenes tomorrow, it is possible that some statement regarding its attitude toward the United States may be issued. But it is unlikely that anything other than the handing of his passports to Charge O'Shaughnessy will change the situation so far as this government is concerned.

Hale will not be accredited to the constitutionalists in a manner that would mean recognition of that faction as a bona fide government. O'Shaughnessy, charge in Mexico City, was never accredited to Huerta. And Special Envoy John Lind, although admittedly the personal representative of President Wilson, has the title of adviser to the embassy.

The state department, while admitting receipt of messages from Dr. Hale, has not officially accepted him as its representative. President Wilson has made it plain that Hale's investigations are of an unofficial and personal character. If reports from Nogales that Carranza now demands official credentials are true the administration will permit the negotiations there to drop.

The situation, so far as Carranza is concerned, is now a game of patience. President Wilson believes he can outwait Huerta, and until Huerta is finally eliminated there will be no consideration of the next step unless outrages against foreigners are attempted.

The pall of secrecy still covers every move this government is making in Mexico and it was believed today that a considerable time must elapse before definite announcements can be made.

Sends Hale Away

NOGALES, Sonora, Nov. 19.—Considering that their negotiations with William Bayard Hale have been abandoned, Governor Venustiano Carranza, leader of the Mexican rebels and his cabinet today ordered a special train to be in readiness at 2 p. m. to take them to Hermosillo. They will establish headquarters there.

HOT DEBATE OVER ROAD REPAIR FUND

Investigators O. K. Expenditures and Sandman in Dissenting Report Alleges Methods Illegal

KEPPEL CALLS BALANCE WRONG

Maintains There Should Be $440.08 Left of $5,000 Fund Given to the Committee

The county board was thrown into a turmoil late yesterday afternoon when Supervisor W. D. Sandman, in a minority report, maintained that the special investigating committee, appointed to look into the details surrounding the expenditure of a $5,000 road repair fund, had found a portion of the money unaccounted for and that it had been paid out contrary to law.

Prior to the reading of the minority report Supervisor William E. Barber read the majority report of the committee which maintained that the committee had accounted satisfactorily for all of the money in the road repair fund. This report was adopted, only Supervisors Keppel, Sandman and Guenther dissenting.

Supervisor Valentine Keppel, who presented the resolution for a probe of the expenditures, immediately went into the fray and loosened his oratorical guns on the failure of the investigating committee to render a detailed itemized account of the expenditures as called for by the resolution providing for the investigation.

During the heat of the debate Mr. Keppel intimated that there should be $440.08 balance in the fund or else the records had been "juggled." The balance turned back to the county was $268.80.

Mr. Keppel maintained that other departments had been paying out money contrary to law and that before he was through these facts would be presented to the board.

Says Method is Illegal

Supervisor Sandman based his dissension from the report of the committee on Sections 686 and 687 of the laws of Wisconsin which provide that all "claims shall be allowed by the board" and that they shall not be paid until "an order is drawn on the country treasurer by the county clerk." He maintained that this procedure had not been followed.

"These wise provisions of the law," said the minority report, "seem to have been overlooked and ignored." The report sets up that $4,250 was paid out without authority.

Says Checks Don't Agree

The report contends that "105 of the checks, amounting to $3,592.40 have been filed with memorandum and account books and presumedly were paid as stated, but they do not agree in any respect with the entries in the books and in many cases are not payable to the person to whom the money is said to have been paid. Your committee (the investigating committee) can only accept the statement made by the committee on highways and bridges. How the balance of the $3,981.20, said to have been expended, was paid, does not appear, but the county records show that $268.80 was turned back to the county treasurer at some later date which was said to be the unexpended balance of the funds.

Whole Proceedings Illegal

"No checks were filed as vouchers for $388.80 of the total and we can only rely upon the integrity of the committee members."

In closing the report maintains that "the fund was handled in an illegal manner and it is to be regretted that the roads and bridge committee has ignored the frequent requests of this board for a proper report." Mr. Sandman signed the dissenting report.

Make Appropriations

The board this morning appropriated $900 for pensions for the blind, and approved of the tax levy as made by Mr. Keizer and O. K.'d by the assessment committees. The board also adopted the assessments committee's basis for valuation of taxable property.

La Crosse county will give $2,000 towards the fund necessary to pave the causeway from the LaCrosse river to the Monitor brewery. This was made possible under a new state law and the $2,000 appropriated will be bunched with the city's money towards the paving.

Sheriff Gets No Raise

A proposition to increase the sheriff's salary from $2,000 to $2,500 per year was defeated this morning after debate. The increase was recommended by the salary committee on the theory that the sheriff should have extra compensation for looking after prisoners farmed out under the new "work-jail-prisoners" law. Supervisor Guenther contended that the sheriff is making good money now and objected to the increase. He was sustained.

The salary of the coroner was increased from $100 to $20. Herman Langstadt will not be benefited, however, as the increase does not go into effect until 1915.

PROBE CHARGE OF MISUSE OF MAILS

Allege Moulthrop Wrote Letters Demanding Senator Lewis Cease Prosecuting Him

READY TO TAKE HIS MEDICINE

But Also Says He Won't Be Condemned for Things He Did Not Do

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Insisting that he was "ready to take his medicine," Sidney Moulthrop, former stenographer to Senator Lewis, was today trying to arrange for freedom on bail. He is held on an information alleging forgery and larceny.

Meanwhile the grand jury is investigating the allegations that he made improper use of the United States mails. The chief evidence of this offense consists of three letters. One was written to the president of the United States. It demands that Lewis be "called off from prosecuting Moulthrop." The penalty for failure is declared to be "exposure of a scandal that will drive out of public life Secretaries Bryan and McAdoo and Senator Lewis himself."

Moulthrop has intimated to the police that he did not write these letters. He has insisted that if he is indicted on this charge he will have a "perfect defense," and there is a general belief that he may produce certain correspondence between Senator Lewis and certain political leaders that will be at least "interesting reading."

Moulthrop declared that he had been accused of many things that were false. Because of this he insisted, he had returned willingly to this city.

"I have come back to clear matters up," he said. "If I have erred I am ready to take my medicine. But I do not intend to be condemned for things which I did not do."

HUERTA HAS ONLY THREE BIG CITIES

Rebels Have Taken All the Rest and Federal Leader Is Hard Pressed

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 19.—Only three important cities in all northern Mexico remain in the hands of the federals, according to advices received today by the constitutionalista leaders at Juarez. With these exceptions, all of the states of Chihuahua, Sinaloa, Sonora and Coahuila are rebel controlled.

Guaymas, Tampico and Chihuahua City are still garrisoned by Huertistas, but the rebels expect to capture the latter two soon. Chihuahua City is completely surrounded, constitutionalistas having cut off the food supply. The capture of Victoria yesterday gave the rebels a clear road to Tampico and they have planned to pursue their advantage. Guayfas, Sonora, is strongly fortified and the Carranzaistas have not been able to take it.

According to latest dispatches the rebel victory at Victoria was sweeping. The federal army was utterly crushed, all who remained in Victoria has been slain.

Some uneasiness was expressed in El Paso today on account of the lack of United States troops on the American side, while General "Pancho" Villa is concentrating soldiers in Juarez. The timid ones say all Mexican factions are sure to combine for defense in case of American intervention and they fear the United States is not prepared here and at other border points in New Mexico, California and Arizona.

General Villa, while disclaiming responsibility for the death durng the recent Juarez battle of C. E. Gereggson, an American, paid his mother $70 and promised more from the constitutionalista government.

ROMANCE ENDS WITH SUICIDE OF GIRL TODAY

Daughter of Fred Schnell of Board of Public Works Drinks Carbolic Acid

WAS IN RECENT ELOPEMENT

Ran Away to Winona to Wed William Groothoff to Whom Her Parents Objected Strongly

LEAVES STRANGE BRIEF NOTES

"Meta Is Crazy" and "Goodbye Forever" Read Last Messages of 18 Year Old Bride

Death by her own hand today ended the romance of 18 year old Mrs. William Groothoff, which included a brief and ardent courtship, an elopement and marriage at Winona, Minn., against strong parental objection.

The bride of but a few weeks was formerly Miss Meta Schnell, daughter of Fred Schnell, president of the board of public works.

The suicide occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. Albert F. French, at 12 o'clock noon. She was a guest there, having returned to La Crosse "because she was homesick."

Carbolic acid, purchased at a local pharmacy this morning for "cleaning purposes" was the method chosen by the girl to end her life.

At the drug store about 10 o'clock she laughingly told the clerk, when asked what the carbolic acid was for, that she didn't intend to kill herself. She appeared to be in good spirits.

Girl Was Cheerful

Returning home she showed no signs of being depressed and, according to her husband, who arrived here this morning, seemed cheerful when she talked to him.

Later she entered her room and her husband talked to her through the window. He observed that she was scribbling on a tablet but paid no particular attention to what she was doing.

Members of the family were next attracted by groans and rushed into the room to find her on the bed writhing in the agonies of death. Physicians were summoned but the deadly acid had done its work.

Someone found the tablet and faintly distinguishable through the scribblings were two sentences. One read: "Meta is crazy." Another said: "Goodbye forever."

Attended Theater

Mrs. Groothoff last night attended the theater with a woman friend. She was very much impressed by the production of "East Lynne" and is said to have cried during the performance.

Comparatively a short time ago Miss Schnell, while accompanying her father on tours of inspection to the city's new water plant, met William Groothoff, a young man employed on the works. Constant meetings increased their friendship which later ripened into love. Groothoff wanted to wed her but her parents objected strongly to the union.

The girl, with the impetuosity of youth and first love, listened to his pleas and consented to an elopement —it would be romantic and, besides, papa would surely forgive them.

They left one day for Winona, procured a license and sought out Judge Vance, the "marrying justice" of that city.

Father Forbids Marriage

Mr. Schnell, however, had learned of the plans of his daughter and over long distance 'phone had prohibited the marriage. Undaunted the couple sought out another minister in the up river city and the ceremony was performed.

They returned to La Crosse for the customary parental forgiveness and blessing. It was not forthcoming, it is said.

They left for Waukon, Iowa, where the young man secured employment.

Recently the girl-wife returned to La Crosse—"because she was homesick," sair her little sister Florence Schnell today. She did not go home but stayed with her married sister, Mrs. French.

MAY GIVE UP BONDS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—At the offices of the New Haven road here it was admitted that the executive committee is in special session considering the proposition to abandon the bond issue which the Massachusetts authorities objected to. It was stated, however, that no statement could be made until later, as decision has not been given.

TOMAH, WIS.

The following Tomah sportsmen returned from the northern woods on Monday with a deer apiece: Dr. Winters, Guy Graham, Robert Doten, Herman Kupper, Claude Sowle, Paul Boetscher H. Faulkner, Louis Schultz and John Schultz. Mr. Graham and Mr. Louis Schultz succeeded in shooting two bucks weighing over two hundred pounds each. Several persons said that there were about two hundred deer on the train leaving Star Lake. The deer are plentiful now but are getting very wild and harder to shoot.

Miss Jacobson of Eau Claire has accepted a position in the law office of Naylor and McCaul, as stenographer and commenced her duties Monday.

The paving of the two streets, Monroe and Milwaukee has been completed and both are open for traffic at present. The contractor, Mr. Woolley, has moved all his tools and accessories to La Crosse where they will be stored in winter quarters. It is expected that there will be more streets paved next year.

High School Notes

The Freshman class held a meeting on Tuesday and elected the following officers: Royal Kilmer, president; Lillian Eldridge, vice president; Helen Madden, secretary and treasurer.

A grade teachers' meeting will be held on Wednesday. The subject for discussion will be "Mid Year Promotions."

Miss Mahoney who has charge of the teachers' course will attend the teachers' training course at Madison on Friday and Saturday.

A two days' vacation will be given the pupils on Nov. 27 and 28. This will give the instructors time to go to their homes and spend Thanksgiving.

Examination will be held in the grades on Nov. 20 and 21. Report cards will be sent out on Nov. 26.

A rhetorical program will be given by seven members of the sophomore class on Friday.

OVER HALF OF ALL SICKNESS CAUSED BY WEAKENED, CLOGGED-UP KIDNEYS

Hundreds Suffer From Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it. Backache, Bladder Disorders and Rheumatism is Result.

It is a well recognized fact among physicians today that a greater part of all sickness can be avoided by keeping the kidneys working properly.

This is even more important than for the bowels to move regularly.

The kidneys and blader are the filterers and sewers of the body, and they must filter the blood and keep it pure. When they fail to do this properly, you suffer with pain in the back and sides; have bladder or urinary disorders, lumbago, rheumatism, dizziness, nervousness or feel tired and worn out. If you have any such symptoms, don't neglect yourself another day. Secure an original package of Croxone which costs but a trifle, take three doses a day, for a few days, and you will be surprised how entirely different you will feel.

This new effective preparation soaks right in and cleans out the clogged up, inactive kidneys, so that they can filter out all the poisonous waste matter and uric acid and keep the blood pure.

Croxone is truly a remarkable remedy for the prompt relief of kidney and bladder disorders. You will find it entirely different from anything you have ever used. It is so quick-acting and effectively prepared, that it is practically impossible to take it without result.

Every druggist recommends it, and is authorized to return the purchase price, if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.

Fearless Chileans.

The Chilean is a combination of four fighting races—first, the Spaniard, then the Araucanian Indian, the only Indian that always defeated the white man and never was conquered himself; then the German, then the Englishman. That's the Chilean. You beat that for a good fighting man, and you've got to be going some. The Chilean isn't afraid of England; isn't afraid of the United States; isn't afraid of Argentina, isn't afraid of anything. Moreover, he lives in the south temperate zone almost entirely the same climate as the United States—rain and snow and six months of winter in the south.—Peter MacQueen in National Magazine.

PRESENT INDIAN PLAY AT NORMAL

Wisconsin Dramatic Society Will Give Dramatization of "Glory-of-the-Morning" Friday

The Indian accessories in "Glory-of-the-Morning,' with the original Glory, Miss Fay Vaughan, in the title role, which will be seen at the normal school on Friday evening, Nov. 21, are the product of Mr. C. E. Brown, curator of the state historical museum at Madison, and therefore reliable and accurate. Concerning the usual costuming of stage Indians, Mr. Brown has this to say:

"The costumes are generally even more ridiculous than the disorderly hopping and whooping. The costumers apparently try to improve upon the native dress, and it is generally very evident that they do not use the native costume as a model, but trust to the imagination, aided perhaps by vague memories of a wild west show performance."

In the dramatization of "Glory-of-the-Morning" to be seen here, the Wisconsin Dramatic society has made a determined effort to present as truthfully as possible the aboriginal settings and costuming of the distant period in which it occurred. Under the direction of Mr. Brown, since it was impossible to obtain any of the firearms of the period, accurate productions were made from specimens in the museum, and so with other accessories.

It is interesting to note that the members of the Wisconsin Archaeological society took a keen interest in its successful production while in Milwaukee.

NEW YORK WANTS "TIPS" FROM STATE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—A committee of fifteen members of the New York legislature, together with a special investigator and a secretary, will come to Madison the first week in December for a conference with the state board of control over the mothers' pension problem. This law is now effective in Wisconsin, having passed the 1913 legislature.

The visiting body is headed by Assembly Leader Aaron J. Levy of New York, who gained fame as spokesman of the anti-Sulzer forces in the recent ouster proceedings against the former governor.

Kitty's Advantage.

"Love is like a kitten,' gurgled the sweet young thing. "It is born blind."

"Yes, but it only takes a kitten nine days to get its eyes opened." replied the utterly unfeeling brute.—Philadelphia Record.

Not a Subject.

I had often heard a man describe himself as an "American citizen," writes "G. M.," but the phrase never struck me so forcibly as it did last week. It was on the boat for Dieppe. The steward came around to warn passengers to get ready for landing. He also took occasion to ascertain our nationality, asking: "What subject are you? British subject? French subject?" and so on. At last he came to an American passenger with the question. "And yours—whose subject are you?" "I ain't a subject," was his indignant reply. "I ain't anybody's subject. I am an American citizen!" And he looked it.—Manchester Guardian.

RASH ON ARMS ITCHED AND BURNED

Especially at Night. At Times Got No Sleep At All. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

400 South Hermitage Ave., Chicago, Ill. —"I was attacked with a breaking out on the inside of my arms. It was a small rash or pimples and it itched and burned, especially at night, so that before I knew it I had made myself sore. I had to wear the finest kind of cotton underwear, no woolen at all, because the least thing irritated it and made it much worse. The rash itched and smarted until at times I got no sleep at all.

"I had this trouble and took treatments for about one year, but they only gave me relief while taking them. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I got relief right away. I made a good strong lather of Cuticura Soap and washed myself every night and morning, drying myself with a good soft towel, and then applied the Cuticura Ointment. In three months I was a well man again." (Signed) H. W. Foley, Nov. 5, 1912.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

BEST LAID PLANS

By A. MARIA CRAWFORD

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"You certainly know human nature too well, Jean, to suppose that a man gets to be thirty without having had any love affairs, or, at least, without having believed himself to be in love several times."

"How do you know that our affair is any different from the others when you merely supposed yourself to be in love? That has been my argument all along. You tell the next girl about me just what you have told me about all the others? You didn't really love them, you said, you only thought you did, Walter. You can't convince me."

"You are inexorable! It isn't fair to bring up a dozen petty love affairs. I never asked any girl but you to marry me."

"I am flattered," Jean smiled. "I wonder how I managed to get you to propose. I am certainly not as clever as Mrs. Humphrey Carter."

At last the cat was out of the bag, thought the man. The arrival of the pretty little widow to be one of his sister's guests at a small house party was responsible for changing the girl's attitude to him. The evening before he had been sure that Jean cared. He looked at her as she leaned her head against a high-backed chair and stared into the fire. There was no longer the mocking little smile on her lips nor the droop to her eyelids that promised a time of teasing for him. She was evidently unhappy.

The inwardly cursed himself for having been a fool. Why, he asked himself bitterly, had he ever made love to please the vanity of little Martha Hall, who later became Mrs. Humphrey Carter? Her husband had lasted a little less than five years, and just because he had never married in the meantime, Walter Baxter knew that Carter's widow attributed his state of single blessedness to the fact that she had married another man. He was sincerely and honestly in love with Jean. She was the first girl he had ever thought about seriously in his life. She knew nothing of women's schemes to get even with a man.

Jean raised her frank blue eyes to his. "You may have thought that you loved me, Walter, but if Mrs. Carter's marriage, so many years ago, affected you so that you never wanted anybody else, it must have been the best love of your life. You know I am just old-fashioned enough to believe in and want the only great love a man ever feels for any woman. There may be many little loves, as you contend, but there is only one great and abiding love. I am sure of that."

"Jean, dear, I never wanted to marry Martha. Lots of women are like that. If you tell them they dance well, they are foolish enough to think that you want to marry them and so dance with them through life."

"But she told me, with tears in her eyes, just how dreadful you looked when she told yon that she was going to marry Mr. Carter."

"She did!" burst out Walter angrily. "If you want to credit that woman, then you can just believe all she says!"

He flung himself out of the room before Jean could realize what had happened. She sought solace in 'ears unti she remembered that in a little while all the guests would come in to dress for a big dinner to which a dozen supplementary guests had been invited. Swollen eyes would give Mrs. Carter an undeniable advantage over her, so she dried her tears instantly, resolved to look her best and so prove to Walter that she didn't care if he did love somebody else. She thought over what he had said. Could a woman as sweet as Mrs. Carter appeared to be really attempt to keep her from marrying Walter? He was the best-looking man in their set, and certainly the cleverest, for he had established a wonderful reputation for a young lawyer. So, reviewing her recent conversation with the widow and the apparent sincerity of Walter's declaration to her, she changed her mind about the truthfulness and honesty of women and determined to defend her rights.

Walter's sister has accepted her offer to look over the dinner table and arrange to seat the guests. With the belief that the unattainable is greatly desired by man, Jean decided to have Walter take the widow in to dinner and put her own place card as far away from them as possible. Then she went up stairs and, calling her maid, began preparations for an attack on a formidable enemey.

If Jean had been inclined to continue believing in Mrs. Carter's apparently sincere liking for her, doubts would have assailed her when that lady appeared at her door to ask sweetly just what she expected to wear down to dinner. Doubt in the heart grows, mushroom-like, over night. Jean answered, untruthfully, that she hadn't decided. Mrs. Carter hoped to wear a color that would clash with or at least ruin the effect of her costume, she concluded.

All of the guests had arrived when Jean went down. Her appearance caused a ripple of excited admiration. She wore a soft, clinging white gown, with one perfect lily caught in the laces of her bodice. Her youth made her appear as fair as the flower she wore. Instantly the girl was surrounded. She had never been so desirable to Walter. He dared not approach her, for he knew that he had behaved like a bore in the afternoon. To Jean he seemed very indifferant so she laughed and talked a great deal more than usual, in order to make it seem that she was having a gloriously good time. On any other occasion, he told himself, his pride would have forced him to be attentive to his interested partner to make Jean believe that he didn't care any more than she did; but the food stuck in his throat, and Mrs. Carter found him strangely silent. Jean, covertly watching him, saw his misery, and her heart ached and was glad all at the same time. Once she caught his eyes and smiled, a very tremulous, tender, young girl smile, that told him all that was in her heart. The look that passed between them then marked the beginning of their betrothal.

When the women left the men Walter stood near the door to whisper to Jean: "Wait in the den, off the first landing on the stairs. Will you, sure?"

She nodded, smiling at him.

Mrs. Carter stopped Jean in the hall. "Haven't you a moment for me, my dear girl?"

"Several of them," answered Jean, trained by society to appear as cordial as if she really meant what she said.

She had determined to make Mrs. Carter aware of the fact that she had found out the subterfuges she employed to spoil her own happy romance with Walter, but the best laid plans often go awry and Jean was so radiant to know that Walter really loved her, loved her so that he could not eat even when Mrs. Carter was by him, that she could not be unkind to anybody in the world. The knowledge made her generous and forgiving.

"I was just telling Walter, late this afternoon, what a charming girl you were, and he said there were so many lovely girls here, it was hard to choose," beamed the widow.

"But he has chosen, dear Mrs. Carter, and you, who have known him for so many years and watched him 'try out,' as men say, dozens of girls, will be interested in our happiness, I am sure." In spite of her youth and unworldliness, Jean had learned to strike back. "You will excuse me now? He is waiting for me."

When she ran, flushed and breathless, up the stairs to the den, a pair of strong arms caught her and held her close.

"Do you mean all that your eyes said, Jean? Are you going to marry me?"

"I'll have to," she confessed laughing, "for I have just announced our engagement."

Time it! In five minutes your upset stomach will feel fine.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; it's harmlessness; it's certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. It's millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store, and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach, all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Orpheus, The Wonderful Musician.

Orpheus Sang to the King.

DADDY was very fond of music. He liked to talk to Jack and Evelyn about the people who had written the beautiful songs and the lovely pieces that mother played on the piano.

"I don't know who was the first musician," daddy said one evening, "but one of the first we hear about was Orpheus, of whom the Greeks told wonderful stories.

"Orpheus sang the songs he made up to the music of his lyre, an instrument that must have been something like the harp. When Orpheus sang it is said the music of his lyre charmed all who heard it. The story is told that when he began to play in the forest the wild animals would gather around and listen with the greatest pleasure.

"Now, the wife of Orpheus was a lovely lady by the name of Eurydice. One day when out in the fields a snake which lay hidden in the grass bit her heel, and she died of the wound.

"Orpheus grieved and grieved for her. He no longer cared to play his harp or sing his beautiful songs.

"At last Orpheus started out, taking his lyre with him. He said, 'I will go seek my Eurydice.'

"Up and down the earth he wandered until at last he came to the gate that led to the Land of Shadows, where the souls of the dead were believed to stand. Orpheus played so lovely an air on his lyre that the grim guardian of the land let him go in. Past the shadows, who stared wondering at him, Orpheus went steadily until he came to the great field of poppies that grew close by the garden of the king of the Shadows. The garden was a wonderful place, in which grew lovely fragrant white flowers called asphodel. They clustered all about the golden palace of the king.

"Orpheus passed straight through the garden, into the palace and, standing before the throne on which sat the king and his beautiful wife Persephone, sang a wonderful song about Eurydice.

"The stern king wiped the tears from his eyes, and Queen Persephone wept openly.

"Then Orpheus begged the king to give back Eurydice to him.

"And the king said she might go if Orpheus would promise not to look behind at her until they had passed out of the Land of Shadows and were safely in the world again.

"Orpheus promised, but when he had almost reached the world he forgot his promise and looked back. Then Eurydice had to go back and leave him. He grieved for her so much that it was not long until he joined her. At least that is the way I have heard their story told."

DRAMATIC SOCIETY A STRONG ORGANIZATION

The Wisconsin Dramatic society, under whose auspices three one-act plays will be presented in La Crosse November 21 is an organization worthy of attention. It is a body of men and women, seriously interested in the drama and the art of acting, which under the leadership of Professor Thomas H. Dickinson, of the University of Wisconsin, and Mrs. E. P. Sherry of Milwaukee, endeavors to present before the public, at cost price, worth while plays in the best possible manner.

There are two branches of the Dramatic society, one in Madison, Wisconsin, directed by Professor Dickinson, and heartily supported by the University and the town, and the other in Milwaukee under the direction of Mrs. Sherry. The Milwaukee company will play in La Crosse.

In Milwaukee the work has been organized in two groups, one, the Workshop, consisting of those interested in various phases of the drama, acting, stage direction, play-writing, and dramatic criticism, who meet twice a month for study; the other, a school of acting composed of members of the Workshop who show distinct ability, and desire more intensive study of dramatic technique. The most talented members of both groups present plays before the public in Milwaukee and elsewhere, endeavoring always to interpret character simply and truthfully, and to give an artistic and finished production. There are no "stars" in this company, so the minor parts receive due emphasis, and do their share toward creating the balanced and harmonious whole which the dramatist intended.

This year Mr. Francis Powell, a professional stage manager, has been secured to take charge of the school. Mr. Powell has served in the capacity of stage manager several years for both Marlowe and Sothern, and Nazimova, and for three years has had entire charge of the dramatic clubs at Harvard. He has left a good position to come to Milwaukee, because he is heartily in sympathy with this effort to establish a repertory company of good actors, presenting good plays, and is willing to give it the benefit of his knowledge and experience.

Among the plays which the Wisconsin Dramatic society has produced since its organization three years ago are "The Intruder," by Maeterlinck, "The Master Builder," by Ibsen, Shaw's "How He Lied to Her Husband," Yeats' "The Hour Glass," and plays written especially for them by Zona Gale, William Elery Leonard and other Wisconsin writers, for one object of the society is to encourage the writing of plays of the middle west by middle western dramatists.

The society is still young and many of its ideals are as yet unattained, but it feels that it has something worth while to give, which justifies it in appearing before the public.

THE POLICE CASE STILL IS A PUZZLE

Evidently it was the opinion of the fire and police commission that the question before them in the police case was strictly a question of law, and that therefore there was no need of evidence. To the suggestion that, the court having held that a division of authority between the mayor and chief exists, it was necessary that evidence be introduced to show what act the mayor had performed in order that the commission might decide whether that act was outside his authority, commissioners probably would reply that the nature of the mayor's act is set forth explicitly in the original pleadings, and is not in dispute, and that thus the pleadings furnish the facts upon which to base an opinion. Accepting this as their view of the case, we come back to the fact that the commissioners have passed upon a question of law, a thing which they themselves once questioned their right to do. However, it may be said that they accepted what many regard as a broad intimation, perhaps a ruling, upon the law found in the circuit court's final decision in the injunction suit, as in fact an express interpretation of the law which they were justified in applying, merely applying, to the facts before them.

The charges have been refiled, and if it shall so desire the commission may reopen the case. Whether that is necessary in order to get the merits of the case before the court is a question upon which lawyers disagree. In fact, the diversity of opinion among them is so great it is no wonder laymen followed the case with puzzled interest. Of one thing, however, we may be certain: the law, like the Deity, often "works in a mysterious way its miracles to perform," but however "mysterious" there is no doubt a legal method of getting the case before the court upon its merits, and if the commission is correct in regarding the matter as purely a question of law, the thing is probably at present in shape for the next move, if a move is desired.

The reasonableness of a tax can be termined only when what the money buys is taken into consideration together with the amount of the tax. If we want what we get, and it is "value received," the tax is justified.

When the "flexible" banking system is adopted we hope for an early allotment of our portion of the "additional circulation."

Although "money makes the mare go" the owner of a horse and carriage knows that the mare makes money go.

WARSHIP TO RESCUE

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Nov. 19.—The British super-dreadnaught Iron Duke, recently completed, arrived here today with twenty-seven survivors of the Glasgow steamship Scotsdyke, which burned to the water's edge in the English channel shortly after midnight. It was believed no lives were lost.

PLEA FOR GIRL WORKERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Miss Jane Addams' plea for better wages for girl workers in garment shops, was today the principal topic of discussion at the semi-annual convention of the National Association of Garment Manufacturers. "If you men pay better wages you will get a better type of girl worker," she said.

WIFE MUST WORK

MARINETTE, Wis., Nov. 19.—The refusal of a bride to become a clerk in a store in order to swell the family purse constitutes "cruel and inhuman treatment," according to a decision here today. Andrew Struch, alleged his wife of three weeks refused to "help him out" and was granted a divorce on those grounds.

SCHMIDT CASE SOON

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Over the objection of his counsel, Judge Foster, in the general sessions court today, set Wednesday for the beginning of the trial of the Rev. Hans Schmidt, who has confessed to killing Anna Aumueller and throwing her dismembered body into the Hudson river.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Last Fly of Summer

(With apologies to Thomas Moore.)

'Tis the last fly of summer,
Left buzzing alone,
All her lovely companions
Are swatted and gone
Not one of her kindred
Of summer survives,
They've given up ere now
Their billions of lives.

I'll not leave thee, thou lone one,
To stagger about,
Since thy kindred are sleeping,
I must knock thee out.
Thus kindly I swat thee
Upon thy bald head.
As thy mates, all swatted,
Lie buzzless and dead.

So now thou must follow,
Fly heaven's thy goal;
No longer to crawl in
The old sugar bowl.
When true hearts are withered
And fond ones are flown,
Thou must not inhabit
This bleak world alone.

She Might Have Known

In a registration booth in San Francisco an old colored woman had just finished registering for the first time. "Am you shore," she asked the clerk, "dat I'd done all I has to do?"

"Quite sure," replied the clerk, "you see it's very simple."

"I'd ought to knowed it," said the old woman. "If those fool men folks been doing it all dese years, I might a' knowed it was a powerful simple process."

To Make Reparation

John Butts, Sr.—I want to leave my property to my two sons. One-tenth to my youngest son, John Butts, and nine-tenths to my oldest son, Royal Chesterfield Chauncey De Peyster Butts.

Family Lawyer—H'm! Do you think that's quite fair?"

John Butts, Sr.—Yes, I want to make some reparation to Royal for allowing his mother to give him such a fool name!

Rejected the Dollar

Mother—It shocks me awfully to think you took the penny. Remember, it is as much a sin to steal a penny as a dollar. Now, how do you feel, Willy?

Willy—Like a chump. There was a dollar right alongside the penny.

A Common Quest

"I say, my friend," called the motorist to the farmer, as he drew up alongside of the field, "I'm looking for a decent road to take me into Squigglesville."

"I'm derned glad to hear it," replied the farmer. "Ef ye happen to find it, stranger, send me a telly-gram, will ye."—Judge.

In the Prohibition State

"Got any gasoline?" asked the tourist, stopping at the rural garage.

"Sorry, mister," said the manager, "but ye come jest a mite tew late. My wife's puttin' up some brandied peaches fer them summer boarders, and we used the last drap yesterday."—Judge.

Thrift at Any Cost

"Holy mackerel!" roared Crabshaw up the dumbwaiter shaft. "Why do you play that one record over and over again without ao change?"

"Because," Pennypincher angrily shouted down, "I hate the darn thing and I want to to wear it out, so I can throw it away."—Judge.

His Sensible Attitude

"Is yo' comin' to pra'r meetin' tonight, Brud' Dinger?" inquired good old Parson Bagster.

"Well-uh, no, sah; I reggin not," was the reply. "To tell de troof, pahson, I's aimin' to go to de minstrel show—done got a comperment'ry ticket."

"Brud' Dinger, dar won't be no minstrel show in heaven!"

"Den, if dat's de case, sah, I'm sho, gwine tonight, whilst muh ticket's good!"—Judge.

A Severe Sickness Leaves The Kidneys Weak

After recovering from a severe spell of sickness some time ago, I was all run down and suffering from poor blood. I would have pains in my back and hips and my kidneys bothered me all the time. I started taking Swamp-Root upon the recommendation of a friend and found it was just what I needed. My blood became all right and after taking a few bottles, I was surprised at the effect it had on my kidneys. They were entirely cured and I have much to be thankful for that your great remedy did for me.

Yours very truly,

Good Blood

Is a man's most valuable possession, and it should be carefully safeguarded not only for one's own personal health, but also in order that its blessings may extend through many generations. HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA absolutely does make good blood, and that is why it is of such wonderful benefit to humanity.

Thousands of people have voluntarily written letters describing and proving relief by Hood's Sarsaparilla in such afflictions as scrofula and eczema, boils and humors, eruptions and sores, rheumatism and catarrh, kidney and liver troubles, loss of appetite and that tired feeling.

Remember, it is HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA that has this great record. Don't be induced to buy a substitute. Be sure to get Hood's

HOUSEBOATS ON LONG TRIP DOWN RIVER

M'GREGOR, Iowa, Nov. 19.—The pleasure houseboats, Josephine and Wahsatch, en route from St. Paul to Florida and New York, lay at dock here for several hours today. On board are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fish of St. Paul and five bachelor friends, N. Wallace, Farmington, Minn.; J. F. Fitzpatrick, W. C. Surber, O B. Douhart and C. Delane of St. Paul. The Josephine will remain in Florida waters for the winter, returning up the Mississippi in the spring. Mr. Surber, Mr. Douhart and Mr. Delane expect to go around the Florida peninsula in the Wahsatch and up the Atlantic coast to New York.

The Wahsatch is built to stand rough waters. The only entrance to the interior is a small hatchway in the top of the bow. The interior comprises two compartments, one a living room, the other an engine room and kitchenette. The Josephine, the larger of the two boats, is fitted up with all the comforts of home even to a canary bird and a bunch of chrysanthemums. The living room in front has three folding berths which serve as seats and divans during the day, a library table, Turkish chairs and a Victrola with cabinet of grand opera records. Back of the living room are kitchenette, bathroom, closets, cupboards and refrigerator and in the rear end the engine room. The woodwork is mahogany throughout and the boat is electric lighted and fitted with hot and cold water taps.

The two craft are making about 125 miles a day though Captain Fish says they are in no hurry and shall tie up whenever and wherever they wish. Mr. and Mrs. Fish made the trip to Florida five years ago in a smaller boat.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given by the undersigned referee, that pursuant to a judgment rendered in the Circuit Court in and for La Crosse County, Wisconsin, in an action for partition wherein Carl Holseth and another are plaintiffs, and Johanna Holseth and others are defendants, the undersigned will at the West front door of the Courthouse in the City of La Crosse, County of La Crosse and State of Wisconsin, on the 30th day of December, A. A Romance of Extraordinary Distinction

The Marshal

Francois bent over her two little hands, kissing them more than once, shook with laughter. "I can not guess the riddle," he said. "They say the heart of a woman is an uncharted ocean. A man must sail blindly over those waters and take the captain's word for it, even if one seems to be sailing two ways at once. For me, I am not very worldly-wise, but I am not such a fool as to stop believing in my friends because I can not understand them. You are yourself, little Lucy, and Harry and I both know better than to let anything you do alter our faith in that beautiful thing which you are—an American woman, Mademoiselle Lucy—you."

The next time Lucy Hampton saw Francois it was when, white-robed and sweet in her enveloping mist of veil she went up the chancel steps of the little Virginia country church and, looking up met a smile that was a benediction from the man whom she had loved, who stood close now at the side of her lover, her husband.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

The Prince's Bright Shadow.

There are old people living in England today who remember hearing their fathers and mothers speak of a young Frenchman of uncommon personality, constantly seen with Prince Louis Napoleon during the last days of his life in London in the year 1840. Lady Constance Cecil nicknamed this Frenchman "the Prince's bright shadow." There seemed to be a closer tie than brotherhood between them, and the tradition runs that the mystical Prince had a superstition that his luck went with him in the person of the Chevalier Beaupre.

The days of that summer month were full days for the conspirators. On the surface, arranged to be seen of the world and to throw the world off its guard, was a steady round of gaiety; at one brilliant function after another the peasant Francois shared the honors and the lionizing of the Prince. Because his visionary eyes looked through things of tinsel to realities, the tinsel did not dazzle him. He gazed at the butterflies of the world who fluttered about him and saw people with kind hearts. And the butterflies themselves were seldom so tawdry but that they responded to the simplicity and loving kindness which he held out to them. Few human telegraph stations fail utterly to take the message when the great universal wireless of reality sounds the note. So that Francois, not suspecting it, gained in a few weeks on many English hearts a hold whose memory has not yet died away.

Beyond this evident social side of the London life lay the hidden life of preparation for the event to come—the attempt on Boulogne. And in this both the Prince and his close follower and friend really breathed and had their being. There was constant excitement, constant labor, constant anxiety. Once, toward the end of the time, Francois was sent on a flying trip to France, to make arrangements unsafe to trust to writing, for the Prince's affair. While on French soil he found time for a two-hours' visit to Vicques and saw his mother and Alixe and the general. Pietro, also, he saw, Pietro, who was to have joined the Prince in London by now, and who had instead incapacitated himself for fighting for months to come. A village child had run suddenly out under his horse's feet, and Pietro, saving the child, had thrown the horse and had been badly hurt. So he lay fretting his heart out silently at the castle, and when Francois stood by his bed, brilliant and tense as an arrow on its way, Pietro took his friend's hand in both his own and gripped it with all his force and then turned his face to the wall without a word. It was always Francois who was the hero.

So that the Prince's secretary sped back to England, sore in heart to miss the friend of his lifetime at his side in the good fight to come, yet too whole-heartedly ready for the work to be anything but an eager sword in the Prince's hand. The day for which he had longed all his life was at hand. The general had sent him off to it with a rough soldierly blessing; Alixe had kissed him sisterly; his mother had stood in the farm-house door, shielding with her hand those calm saint-like eyes, and he saw her lips move as he looked back and knew what she said as she watched him ride away to fight for Prince Louis. To fight for the Prince! Who could tell if ever he might ride back down the familiar road under the chestnuts?

But it was all as it should be; he was entirely happy. He had asked three wishes of the good fairies, as he had said long ago; that the Prince should be Emperor—that he might become "a Marshal of France under another Bonaparte"—that Alixe should love him. The first two he believed about to be realized. The last, it was not now the time to think of that. Alixe had kissed him goodby. That would more than do till the fight was over. So he sped back to London, missing Pietro, but hopeful and buoyant. And in London there was a letter for him from Virginia.

"Dear Francois," Lucy began. "To think that the first letter sent to you by Harry's wife should be to tell you that she has betrayed your trust in her. I am distressed beyond words, for I have made a mistake which may mean distress to you. You remember the letter to Alixe which you trusted to me to send her in case anything should happen to you? I had it in my hand the week after my wedding when I had gone up-stairs to get other letters for Europe which my father had commanded me to send by the next packet. And in some stupid unexplainable way I slipped yours—your precious letter—among them in place of one to my father's agents in London, and I hurried down and gave the parcel to Sambo, who was waiting to ride to Norfolk with them. And then Harry and I went away on a visit to Martin's Brandon for three days, and it was only when I came back that I discovered the dreadful mistake I had made. Can you ever forgive me? Harry and I thought over every possibility of stopping it, but there seemed to be no chance. Are you very angry with me, dear friend of Harry's and of mine?"

His Wanderlust

"They tell me you've lost your hired man."

"Yep; best farm hand I ever had."

"Sho! What wuz th' matter?"

"Nothin'. John's a German, you know, and these here Germans hev what they call the wanderlust. It's somethin' thet keeps 'em movin' from one place to t'other, an' don't let 'em stay long anywheres."

"That's queer, ain't it? How long had John been with you?"

"Only eleven years."

ROYAL Baking Powder Absolutely Pure

There is a remarkable interest in Home Baking and Cooking throughout the land.

This is a most encouraging indication that the battle against impure, improper food is going to be won.

The credit for the victory will belong to the women of the country.

Home cooking has the backing of science and the approval of fashion. It adds to housekeeping a pride; to our food, healthfulness.

It is acknowledged by experts, and by the women who know, that the best cooking in the world to-day is with the aid of Royal Baking Powder.

Wonderful Blood Remedy That Works in the Tissues

The Very Latest Theory About How and Why the Blood is Disordered.

S. S. S. Means Pure Blood Which Insures Long Life and Health.

The great experts in Chemistry and Physiology now declare what has all along been contended by the Swift Laboratory that the germs of blood disorders find lodgment in the interstices of the tissues.

And herein is where S. S. S. goes to work rapidly, effectively and with wonderfully noticeable results.

This famous blood purifier contains medicinal components just as vital and essential to healthy blood as the nutritive elements of wheat, roast beef, and fats and the sugars that make up our daily ration.

As a matter of fact there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming eczema, rash, pimples, and all skin afflictions.

And in regenerating the tissues S. S. S. has a rapid and positive antidotal effect upon all those irritating influences that cause rheumatism, sore throat, weak eyes, loss of weight, thin pale cheeks, and that weariness of muscle and nerve that is generally experienced, by all sufferers with poisoned blood.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will not only feel bright, and energetic, but you will be the picture of new life.

S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of the Swift Specific Co., 201 Swift Bldg, Atlanta, Ga. Who maintain a very efficient Medical Department, where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may write freely for advice.

S. S. S. is sold everywhere by all drug stores.

Beware of all attempts to sell you something "Just as good." Insist upon S. S. S.

JUDGE BUTTON DIES AT SPARTA MONDAY

SPARTA, Wis., Nov. 19.—The Honorable S. W. Button, formerly county judge of Monroe county and for thirty years a practicing attorney in the city of Sparta, died at his home on Court street at Jefferson avenue yesterday morning, after a long and lingering illness. The judge came here from Trempealeau county and raised a family of three, one of whom (Scott) died in early manhood, and leaves surviving him his widow and one son, J. D. Button of this city and a daughter, Mrs. L. B. Squier of Tomah.

The judge has been retired from the practice of law for a number of years, but has maintained an office and has acted as court commissioner and justice of the peace for the accommodation of the other members of the profession and as a pastime for himself until about a year ago when he was obliged to give up his office and take to his bed. The last case on his docket was a Minneapolis company as plaintiff and Clarence Thorbus, as defendant. Attorney Z. S. Rice appeared for the plaintiff and R. B. Graves for the defendant. It was taken under advisement by the judge upon the completion of the trial of the case on the last day that he was in his office. It was never decided. Plans for the funeral are not completed.

Many Candidates for Trustee

Gossip in county board circles upon the return of the members from their Sunday visit to their homes, is confined mainly to the subject of the election of a trustee to succeed P. C. Pederson of Warrens. Pederson is a candidate to succeed himself but there has been friction among the trustees the past year and there has been a minority report by one of the members of the board of trustees to the present county board, and these things form a basis for discussion of possible candidates to succeed Mr. Pederson.

Ex-Trustee E. Bartels of Tomah is in the city and it is said that he will seek the votes of the board in an effort to succeed Pederson. George Becker, exchairman of the town of Greenfield, defeated for chairman by Earl Hall in the spring of 1913, is also in the city renewing acquaintances with his former co-workers on the board and it is said that he can be induced to accept the office of trustee to succeed Pederson. Then a number of the board members who are anxious to have the county's institutions managed in the most efficient manner and have no particular interest in any one candidate dacy, are endeavoring to induce Mr. Charles B. Drowatzky of the State Bank, Tomah, Wis., to become a candidate. It is thought that in case Mr. Drowatzky can be induced to be a candidate, he will receive a great majority, if not the unanimous vote of the board. He will be an especially competent man for the place. It is feared, however, that he cannot be induced to sacrifice the time from the bank that will be necessary in order to attend to this work.

Pederson was elected by the same element on the board who elected Frohmader last year against E. R. Jones, the stalwart candidate, but it seems that these two members of the same element have disagreed in many ways. The committee on insane and poor of the county board is now wrestling with the two reports and with the assistance of the chairman and a number of the old heads of the board who have been consulted with reference to matters in depreciation and appreciation, etc., are expected to make a report Wednesday or Thursday, which will approve part of the majority report and part of the minority report, but will not O. K. either in totum.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifuly dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

In fact, the history of the world fails to record an appointment of a Jew exactly parallel in importance and dignity.

CONGRESS PROBE ALL-STATE STRIKE

DENVER, Nov. 19.—"The Colorado coal strike must end—I care not by what means. Drastic action is demanded. If a congressional investigation is the only solution, I am going to do everything in my power to bring it about immediately."

Governor Ammons today thus summarized the coal strike situation following the receipt of dispatches from Washington saying negotiations had been opened by United States Senators Thomas and Shafroth and Congressman Keating with President Wilson. All three men urge a congressional probe.

While these steps were being taken, leaders of the United Miners assembled here to arrange a series of meetings to be held simultaneously throughout Colorado in the interests of a state-wide strike of allied union craftsmen.

John McLennan, miners' district president, who is also president of the Colorado Federation of Labor, threatens to call the state-wide strike in a week.

Have a Fire-Extinguisher.

A reliable fire-extinguisher, which throws chemicals instead of water, should hang in every home, in the barn and in the stable. Seconds are precious when fire breaks out, and the small, inexpensive extinguishers are so simple of use and quick of action that they at once arrest the progress of a small blaze. Motorists have found the little extinguisher invaluable.

TRAINS TO CARRY EMERGENCY CASES

Orders Issued on Milwaukee to Effect that Freight and Passenger Trains Carry Aid Supplies

The C. M. & St. P. railroad has issued orders to all trainmen on both passenger and freight trains to the effect that every train on the system will in the future carry equipments for first aid to the injured.

This is in compliance with a law recently passed in the state, which says that all trains shall carry an emergency medical case.

The following is a list of what the case must contain: Two gauze bandages, two triangular pieces of gauze eighteen inches wide, and one pound of absorbent cotton. The company has added a few other things to their equipments which will be sent to each division point for distribution to train crews in the near future.

LISTEN MOTHER DO BE CAREFUL

If child is cross, constipated, sick, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the 'California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

IKE DIAMOND IS STRUCK ON HEAD

Jumping off the rear platform of passenger train No. 55 of the C. M. & St. P. railroad at the "Y" between the south and north sides yesterday noon, Ike Diamond, a resident of the north side, fell, striking his head on the steel rail.

He was picked up unconscious and carried to the north side offices of the road. A physician attended him and he was revived shortly. Diamond says he struck his foot on one of the rails and his head struck the other rail.

CORN SHIPMENTS CONTAIN MOISTURE

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS TO FLUSH THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS

Advises folks to overcome Kidney and Bladder trouble while it is only trouble

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease. Agent, Chas. A. Beyschlag, druggist, 503 Main street.

BOURNE "BIGNUM" POULTRY BANDS

DESCRIPTION.

This Band consists of an aluminum carrier, which has folded edges that allow a celluloid number strip to be inserted. The aluminum is one-half inch wide and varies in length to suit the different breeds. The number strip has either one or two large numbers, as shown, which are five-sixteenths of an inch high, hence can be read from a distance. The smaller sizes have only one number but the larger sizes have two numbers spaced on opposite sides, so that no matter how the bird stands, one of the numbers always shows. All other bands heretofore have had stamped or raised figures on aluminum, which could not be seen unless held close to the eye.

Of Service.

"That isn't much of a tune to that song." "Perhaps not," replied the ragtime soloist. "But it serves its purpose. Propriety requires some kind of a melody to conceal the words."

HOSPITAL FIRE COSTS NO LIVES

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Fire in the west wing of the main building of the Rochester state hospital this morning caused the hasty removal of 105 patients from the building and for a time threatened serious results, but employes attacked the fire and had the flames well controlled when the firemen arrived.

Smallest Book in the World.

The smallest book in the world was made in Italy. It is not much larger than a man's thumb nail. It is fourtenths of an inch in length, a quarter of an inch in width and contains 208 pages, each with nine lines and from 95 to 100 letters. The text consists of a letter written by the inventor of the pendulum clock to Madame Christine of Lorraine, in 1615.

Do You Pay for It Afterward?

If You Do, Just Carry a Little Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet in Your Vest Pocket and a Big Meal Will Be Easily Laid Away.

Get away from the foreboding that every time you enjoy yourself heartily and eat a full meal, that you will pay for it afterward. There is no sense in your not enjoying every meal to the utmost. And you can do so without danger from a protesting stomach if you take the precaution always to have Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with you. Then if you overeat, or eat something that disagrees with you as the most careful person will sometimes, one or two of these tablets will restore normal conditions in your stomach in a very few minutes.

"I Am Going to Enjoy This Meal For I Have a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet in My Vest Pocket."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are nothing more than a concentrated form of the natural secretions which the stomach employs in digesting food. And Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets merely step in when the stomach is too tired or too sluggish to perform its functions properly and supply a sufficient quantity of these digestive ferments to digest completely all food, under either acid or alkaline conditions, in the stomach.

It has long been known that the various digestive ferments could be produced as perfectly in the laboratory as in the stomach, but Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the first attempt outside of certain hospitals, to utilize these discoveries for the benefit of sufferers from indigestion and kindred complaints.

The perfect freedom to eat what you please and as much as you please which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets gives, has won it thousands of friends who make it a constant, vest pocket companion. Join today the vast army of people who have declared their independence of stomach worries. You can get a 50c box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from any druggist.

WILSON TO FIGHT PARTY BOSSISM

Will Discuss with McCombs Plans to Unhorse Murphy and Men of His Type

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The first move in an effort to eliminate bossism in so far as it affects his political party, will be made by President Wilson, probably on Friday. He is to talk party program with William F. McCombs, chairman of the national democratic party, on that day.

Mr. McCombs has finally declined to be sidetracked from active national politics to become ambassador to France. He wants to retain his present position as head of the democracy and in that conclusion, immediately initiated a movement which will unhorse a few old time democratic bosses still in the saddle.

McCombs has been asked by anti-Tammanyites there to lead the fight against Murphy and Tammany hall. He has sent word here that he wants to discuss the entire New York situation with the president and has promised that, following this conference, there will be a statement regarding his plans for the public. If he gets in the New York fight, McCombs, as national chairman, will be able to draw support from Governor Glynn, Mayor John Purroy Mitchel, and collector of the port of New York, Dudley Field Malone. He has been told since he returned to this country that the rank and file of Tammany would co-operate in unhorsing Murphy and that if he will lead the fight there ought to be no trouble in getting a new deal in party matters in New York.

If successful in New York, McCombs is expected to turn his attention to Indiana, where Tom Taggart still dominates the party; Illinois, where the Sullivan and Hearst machines are fighting for control, and to several of the southern states where a new deal would be welcomed.

Senator O'Gorman saw the president for a few minutes today but denied that New York politics were discussed for a few minutes today but denied that New York politics were discussed. He expressed deep interest in the coming conference between McCombs and the president over New York.

Post-Mortem.

"I suppose," said the sympathetic neighbor, "that you will erect a handsome monument to your husband's memory?" "To his memory?" echoed the tearful widow. "Why, poor John hadn't any. I was sorting over some of his clothes today, and found a pocketful of letters I had given him to post."

THE "Y'S" AND HIGHS TO BATTLE

The first game of the Scholastic Indoor Baseball league will take place tonight in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. between the high school team and the "Y" team.

These teams have been organized for the past month and have been in practice a few times each week. With Weisse pitching and catching for the highs, they should give Captain Clow and his "Y" boys a tough go. Professor Harry Spence will officiate at the game.

The other teams of the league are the Normals, Business University and the men of companyM.

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium has been made bright as day by the addition of several new electric lights.

Fatal Mixing of Labels.

Mixing of labels had a fatal result at Paris, a few days ago. An eight-months-old child was taken ill, and the doctor who was called in gave the mother a couple of prescriptions, one for a potion to be taken internally, and the other for a lotion for external application. The chemist who made them up, however, put the potion label on the bottle of lotion, and the label "To be applied externally," he affixed to the other bottle. The result was that the child died the following day.

INTER-UNION ROW PREVENTS STRIKE

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 19.—Only the enmity existing between Industrial Workers of the World and the American Federation of Labor prevents a general strike in Lawrence textile mills today. The striking firemen are federation members and it was doubtful today if they would consider the offer of the I. W. W. members to go out on a sympathetic strike if the firemen wish it.

Charles G. Wood of New Bedford, a member of the state board of conciliation and arbitration, has announced that the board will begin a hearing Thursday at the city hall, resuming their attempts at affecting an agreement.

The board now has power to summon witnesses which was lacking when it endeavored to straighten out the strike of two years ago.

EXCLUDE ASIATICS IGNORANT EUROPEANS

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—Copies of a resolution adopted by the American Federation of Labor demanding the exclusion from the United States of all Asiatics and an illiteracy test for all immigrants, were forwarded to Washington today. The two hour debate which preceded the vote showed the federation leaders oppose only the immigration of Europeans whose illiteracy would make them easy victims for "exploiters."

BOOTHS TO MEET AFTER MANY YEARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—For the first time in seventeen years, General Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, and his brother, General Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, are scheduled to shake each other by the hand today. They have not met since the day that Ballington Booth left the Salvation Army to start a rival organization in the United States. Bramwell Booth was scheduled to arrive here this afternoon from Chicago and although he said he wanted to greet his brother, he denied that the two "armies of peace" would consolidate.

MAN 34 DIES OF INFANT PARALYSIS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—Madison physicians are puzzled about a supposed case of infantile paralysis, which is reported to be the cause of the death of Leroy Jull, 34 years of age, of the town of Lancaster. The death of any one of this age from infantile paralysis is unknown. The state board of health is going to make an inspection.

WILLIAMSON BOY DIES AT HOME

Moses John Williamson, 4 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Williamson, 1240 Redfield street, died last night at his home. Death resulted from a complication of diseases after an illness of two weeks. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

PURITY COPS CLEAN UP WICKED CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Under orders from Chief Gleason, new police head, a squad of plain clothes detectives today started on a morals campaign that according to police officials would make Anthony Comstock do a tango for sheer ecstacy.

Detectives were ordered to visit every photographer's studio in the city and confiscate pictures of women in suggestive poses on display in the windows. Postal card and small art stores were visited and several thousand postals of suggestive nature were confiscated.

STERILIZATION LAW TESTED IN COURTS

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 19.—The right of a state to sterilize criminals, feeble-minded persons and epileptics will be threshed out in the court of errors and appeals, New Jersey's highest court, it was said today.

Justice Garrison in the Supreme court yesterday handed down an opinion, declaring the law unconstitutional on the ground that it violates the fourteenth amendment.

The ruling was made in the case of Alice Smith, an epileptic, selected as a test. The board of examiners created by the new sterilization law, ordered an operation on the Smith woman to prevent procreation. The case was appealed to the courts.

MINE DEATH LIST NUMBERS ONLY 24

ACTON, Ala., Nov. 19.—Revised figures on the mine explosion here late yesterday indicated this afternoon that the death list would total twenty-four. Six are injured.

Fear that a number of other victims might be buried was removed when it was discovered that only part of the shift were in the mine at the time of the explosion. Originally it was believed thirty were entombed; but a checking up showed that only about half that number were actually at work.

SECOND STORY MEN BAFFLE DEPUTIES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 19.—Deputy sheriffs at noon owned themselves baffled in their search for the porch climbers that have struck terror to the hearts of owners of fashionable Fox Point and Whitefish Bay homes. Eight burglaries have been reported since Sunday. All the officers have to work on is a meager description of the robbers furnished by Mayor Goodall of Whitefish Bay, who saw and shot at them when he caught them looting his home.

EKERN ACTIVE IN FORESTRY MATTER

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Action to protect 243,000 members of the Independent Order of Foresters will be taken here tomorrow by a special committee of the insurance commissioners of several states. Herman L. Ekern, Wisconsin insurance commissioner, and chairman of the committee, arrived here today in advance of the session.

COPYRIGHT LAW IS EMASCULATED

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Threatened with the loss of half their incomes, through a successful fight made upon the copyright law by a moving picture company, the Authors' league, of which Theodore Roosevelt is vice president, today prepared to test the law by carrying it to the supreme court.

The suit hinges on the decision of a Los Angeles court, upholding the contention of a moving picture company that once a story is printed either serially or as a book, the copyright becomes void and the story is public property, to be dramatized, produced as a moving picture or reprinted. The suit was instituted by Jack London, against the Balboa Moving Picture company.

SCHMIDT INSANE SAY HIS LAWYERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—After listening to a statement from former Judge William N. K. Olcott, retained as counsel for Father Hans Schmidt, Judge Foster today adjourned the trial of the confessed murderer of Anna Aumueller, until next Tuesday, so that Olcott may have time to prepare his defense. Tomorrow, however, Olcott wil present a motion to the court asking that Schmidt be examined as to his sanity before a jury of laymen to determine whether Schmidt should be tried.

SPEAKS AT MISSION THURSDAY NIGHT

Rev. O. Mitchell, pastor of M. E. church at Rockland, will speak at the Rescue Mission Thursday night. The Young People's society of the First Presbyterian church will have charge of the service Friday night. Mrs. James Hundley, just returned as a missionary to Africa, will speak at the Mission Tuesday, Nov. 25. Ten years ago Mr. and Mrs. Hundley went to dark Africa as missionaries. He is still there. She is to speak in Minnesota Sunday and will stop over for Tuesday night.

Those interested in foreign missions and those studying Africa are especially invited to attend.

ELLIS CONFESSES TO WIFE MURDER

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—William C. Ellis, wealthy Cincinnati merchant, who made a dramatic confession at the coroner's inquest that he shot his wife and then slashed her throat, was today indicted for murder.

The tragedy occurred in the Hotel Sherman on October 16. Ellis first declared his wife died as the result of a suicide pact.

PROBE $12,000,000 LOSS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 19.—Investigation of the affairs of the 'Frisco following reports of expert accountants after several months' work on the books of the road was begun here by Edgar E. Clark, chairman of the interstate commerce commission. The United States senate ordered the investigation soon after the road went into the hands of receivers, May 27.

It is understood that the commissioner plans to probe the Rock Island merger as a loss of $12,000 is said to have been found by accountants in the one deal.

WIRELESS SAVES FERRY

MARINETTE, Wis., Nov. 19.—The efficacy of the wireless was again proved early today when Ann Arbor car ferry No. 4 went aground during a heavy fog on a submerged reef off the south shore of Green Island. Car ferry No. 3 of the same line was called from Frankfort by wireless and released the stranded vessel, towing her to Menominee. She cleared that port today for Manitowoc, where she will go into dry dock for repairs.

MAGAZINE MAN IS SHOT BY HUSBAND

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Prostrated by the news that her husband, an advertising agent, had been shot down and killed in Kansas City by Dr. W. T. Elam, who claimed his victim wrecked his home, Mrs. Putman Cramer today declared her faith in the slain man and promised to aid in the prosecution of the physician.

"My husband was the victim of a terrible mistake," said Mrs .Cramer. "I knew his soul to the core, and it was without a blemish."

Mrs. Cramer has been an invalid for years, living at the Arcola hotel. James D. Sullivan, a resident of the hotel, said today that Cramer once told him of meeting Dr. Elam's wife in Kansas City, but that he described the affair as an "innocent flirtation."

Wouldn't Do It Again

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 19.—Dr. William T. Elam, St. Joseph physician who yesterday killed William Putnam Cramer of Chicago at the Hotel Baltimore, in a conference concerning Cramer's relations with Mrs. Elam; was held today on a first degree murder charge. This was the recommendation of the coroner's jruy.

The preliminary hearing was set for November 22. Elam was remanded to jail without bail.

"I'd never do it if I had to go through it again. My God, man, I've had an awful night. You don't know what I have suffered."

This was the statement of Elam today.

It was a complete reversal of his attitude last night, when he said he shot Cramer and was glad and ready to hang, if necessary.

"I am sorry, so sorry."

"Why did you shoot?" was asked.

"It was just one of those things that come into a man's life and leave it wrecked. If I hadn't prided myself on self control it would not have happened. No man knows his weakness until it comes to the test."

At the inquest with Dr. Elam were several prominent citizens of St. Joseph, who came to Kansas City to give him their moral support.

John Torpey, Hotel Baltimore house detective, testified he had heard a shot and later saw Dr. Elam in the corridor.

POLICE ARREST BOYS WHO STEAL

Police today arrested Billy Minertz, age 15, 2106 South Fourteenth street, and Joseph Fritz, age 14, 1407 Redfield street, who are alleged to have stolen two bicycles and several tires and a number of tools from the shop of L. W. King, 624 Main street.

The theft was committed in the night time, about two weeks ago.

Several days past, someone saw one of the boys riding a bicycle and reported it to the police, who investigating, discovered the two wheels, and two tires. The goods were recovered and the arrest resulted today.

A charge of burglary in the night time may be placed against the boys.

THE TANGO GOES AT THE CHARITY BALL

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—There will be no lid on dancing at the big annual charity ball here tonight. Tangoing and one-stepping will be allowed, though the floor committee will be on the lookout to see that nothing too eccentric is tried, according to the society girls who are planning the affair.

CATCH "BIKE" ROBBERS

The police have landed the "burglars" who recently entered the bicycle shop of L. W. King on Main street and helped themselves to several pairs of tires and other cycle accessories. They were two boys employed in the neighborhood.

NO DATE FOR HEARING

No date has been set by the police and fire commission for a hearing of the second charges preferred against Chief Webber by Mayor Sorensen. The charges are the same as the ones dismissed by the commission Monday night and charge insubordination.

SILENCE OF TOMB AS LINCOLN SPOKE

Old Man Describes the Famous Speech of Martyr at Battleground of Gettysburg

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 19.—Fifty years ago President Abraham Lincoln stood by the side of the trenches at Gettysburg and delivered the noblest address ever made by an American citizen.

Over in the little town of Westerville, near here, lives old Dr. Dan Coble. He's one of the few alive today who heard Lincoln utter the address. Here's how he describes it:

"After a dirge had been sung by the Baltimore Glee club, Lincoln was introduced. He looked so extremely ungainly in his ill-fitting clothes and his hair mussed and disheveled, a slight, almost imperceptible snicker passed over the audience. He bowed gravely, first to the soldiers on his right, then to distinguish visitors on the platform and began.

"With the first sentence, a hush fell upon the assembly. During the speech the silence was almost ghastly. At the conclusion there was no sound of applause.

"Lincoln turned, slouched back to his seat and sat down. He brushed his eyes quietly with his hand. His appearance was pitiful. Still there was no applause.

"His auditors were dazed and filled with awe at the simple, direct force of the speech. As the people do not applaud in church, so they did not applaud Lincoln's words. It would have been sacriligious. But the martyred resident's appeal had reached the innermost corner of their charts and souls and their silence was the greatest tribute they could have paid to the speaker."

CRAZY IN OHIO BUT SANE IN MISSOURI

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 19.—George W. Douglas, legally sane in Missouri but insane in Ohio, today holds a judgment of $25,000 against the United Railways. Douglas leaned over the rail of a car to expectorate and was struck on the head by a car going in another direction. He claimed the blow caused a loss of memory.

Douglas was brought here from the state asylum at Dayton, Ohio, but under the Missouri law was regarded as sane, the suit was brought in his own name, and he was allowed to testify.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF SUFFRAGE LAW HIT

PEKIN, Ill., Nov. 19.—Suit to test the constitutionality of the woman suffrage law is to be filed here today or tomorrow. The liquor interests are understood to be prepared to ask an injunction to prevent the issuance of bonds for the building of a new court house. The bond issue was approved at a special election on October 20, and it was the votes of the women which carried the proposition by a narrow margin.

BEN HAS T. R. AND SEPTEMBER MORN

DENVER, Col., Nov. 19.—"Stptember Morn" is all right.

Juvenile Judge Ben Lindsey says so. Furthermore, he backs up his endorsement today by hanging her on the walls of his chamber along with T. R. who heretofore has been the sole occupant.

"There is something wrong with anyone who objects to such a beautiful picture," said the judge.

NO WAR SAYS DANIELS

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 19.—Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, arrived here today from Chicago and will address the Commercial club at noon. Referring to the Mexican situation, the secretary said: "It's a troublesome problem, but the president will handle the situation without war."

REFUND ORDERED

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19. — The railroad commission has ordered the Soo railroad to refund $91.50 to the Rhinelander Paper company of Rhinelander, overcharges on three carloads of car stakes.

The Wristlet Watch
is in a fair way to repeat the continuous popularity of the mesh bag. It jumped suddenly into great favor, and is not only holding its place, but continually gaining ground.
But in buying one should be sure of getting a WATCH, not a mere shell. The first requirement in a Wrist Watch is utility. Be sure of a reliable movement first, then choose a case and bracelet as plain, or as beautiful as you like. Warranted movements only are sold here, in a great variety of cases and fitted to many kinds of bracelets.

SWALLOWS PIN AND DISLOCATES ARM

Clinton Shomers Dislocates Shoulder While Being Confined at Home After Swallowing Pin

While being confined at his home with a pin lodged in his throat, thirteen year old Clinton Schomers, of 512 Berlin street fell down a flight of stairs at his home yesterday dislocating his shoulder blade.

While playing with his schoolmates in the yard of St. James Parochial school, he swallowed a pin. He did not tell anyone of the accident for several hours, until it began to pain him and he was compelled to complain. He was sent to St. Francis hospital.

Physicians there were of the opinion that the best plan to follow would be to have him put on a diet of dry bread. He has been living on this since the accident.

Going down the cellar steps of his home yesterday to open the cellar door for a coal man, the boy tripped and fell. He is seriously ill at his home.

THE SOUTHEASTERN VALUED AT $250,000

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—The valuation of the forty-seven railroads of Wisconsin has been increased $21,775,000 over last year's assessment, according to the preliminary valuation announced by the state tax commission today. The preliminary assessment today is fixed at $348,028,000.

The La Crosse & Southeastern is valued at $250,000; the Northwestern at $118,000,000; the St. Paul at $103,000,000; Illinois Central at $1,100,000; Burlington at $19,500,000; Soo at $53,500,000, and Omaha road at $32,000,000. The commission announced today that the roads will have until December 15 to present evidence, if the preliminary assessment is deemed too high.

BURY VICTIM OF RECENT DISASTER

Funeral services for William Joseph Schneider, who was killed last Friday at Cedar Rapids, Ia., were held this afternoon at 2:30 from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Charles Young, 415 North Twelfth street.

The services were held under the auspices of the Masons. Members of the La Crosse Valley lodge No. 48 of the Odd Fellows were in attendance. Interment took place at Oak Grove cemetery. The choir of the First Methodist church rendered a solo at the ome.

Mrs. Schneider was in Cedar Rapids at the time of the accident. Upon receiving word here Mrs. Charles Young, sister of Mr. Schneider, immediately went to Cedar Radids. The body was not recovered until Sunday morning, and arrived yesterday morning over the Burlington railroad at 3:15.

H. A. SALZER TO ADDRESS MEETING

H. A. Salzer, president of the Salzer Seed company and Secretary A. C. Gran of the Y. M. C. A. will address a meeting tonight at the German Methodist church.

The gathering is the first of two to be held this week at the church under the auspices of the Epworth league of the church.

J. M. Holley, Sr., and W. G. Haebig will address a meeting on Friday night. The meetings will start promptly at 7:45.

CHICKEN HOROWITZ LEADS NEWSBOYS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 19.—The organization triumphed in the election of a president of the Milwaukee Newsboys' republic. "Chicken' Horowitz of the people's party, today was declared elected by a plurality of 104 votes, and bolters of the "ring" were assembling their scattered forces for next year's fight against "the bosses" at a love feast scheduled for tonight. The newspapers will announce his cabinet, the members of which will have charge of the funds raised by individual assessment for a newsboys' home.

CITY MAY PURCHASE PUBLIC UTILITY

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—The city of Manitowoc will be able to purchase the properties of the Manitowoc Electric Light company for $137,500, according to the decision of the railroad commission, announced today. In addition to this amount the city must pay for the materials on hand and improvement made in the plant since January first last.

BEILIS TO COME FOR WHITE PLAGUE CURE

DENVER, Col., Nov. 19.—Mendel Beilis, principal figure in the sensational ritual murder trial at Kieff, Russia, will be invited to Denver to seek a cure for tuberculosis, contracted during two years in a Russian prison.

The Central Jewish council of Denver, in a telegram to New York asked the American Jewish commission there if efforts to bring Beilis to the United States were being pressed. If so funds will be raised here to pay the expenses of himself and his family to Colorado.

EQUITY SOCIETY CONVENES HERE

Old Y. M. C. A. Building Has Been Selected for Meetings of Wisconsin Society of Equity

A meeting of the committee on conventons and excursions of the Board of Trade was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the La Crosse club to make plans for the convention of the Wisconsin Society of Equity, which will be held in this city.

Those in attendance were John A. Bayer, F. H. Burgess, William F. Strauss, Adolph Kohlhaus and Secretary Pohn L. Utermoehl.

The old Y. M. C. A. building on King street was secured for the convention.

Mr. Burgess was appointed a committee of one to interview hotels and rooming houses regarding the number of rooms in the city available for guests and the rates.

A part of the plans for the convention were made. It was decided that Mayor Ori J. Sorensen and Secretary Utermoehl will welcome the guests. Rev. T. Stanley Oadams, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will be invited to give the invocation.

An expert stenographer will be engaged for the convention. The headquarters will be at one of the hotels, which has not as yet been named. A reception committee will be appointed for the occasion.

Word has been given out that the convention of the Western Wisconsin Poultry association will meet the same week in the same building.

MAN WANTS WORK POLICE BOARD HIM

Chief of Police John B. Webber is confronted with a problem in the case of Mike Simoan who wants work, is without funds and cannot find remunerative labor.

Simoan came to La Crosse equipped with a letter from the Chicago police to the effect that he had been robbed of $59 in that city. The man was being held for the grand jury and the Chicago authorities want Simoan for a witness.

Simoan, who used to be a peddler here, came back here pending the trial of the man who robbed him, but is without funds and can't find work.

"We can't keep him for ever," said Chief Webber this morning, "but what are we going to do with him?"

BOARD OF TRADE IS HIT VITAL BLOW

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—Illegal stock gambling was given a blow by the Supreme court today in the case of the Kassuba Commission company of Milwaukee against Horace Blodgett.

Whether board of trade deals in futures constitute gambling and as such are void was the issue. The trial court found that the knowledge of the broker (the commission company) of the unlawful intention of its principal (Blodgett) to gamble on the market vitiates the entire transaction and that therefore the company cannot recover. The court confirmed the lower court's judgment.

SPOTLIGHTS

STAGING A RESTAURANT

One of the most remarkable stage effects, from a standpoint of realism, that has ever been conceived and made a part of a theatrical performance, forms one of the features of Miss Alice Bradley's play, "The Governor's Lady," which William Elliott and David Belasco will present at the La Crosse theater next Friday night, November 21.

After reading the manuscript of "The Governor's Lady," which called for a restaurant setting in the last act, instead of placing the scene in one of Broadway's more pretentious cafes, as most theatrical managers striving for an elaborate effect would have done, this master of stage craft got right down to every day life and chose a scene that would have an almost universal appeal; a Child's restaurant. No other manager would have dared to attempt such a feat, but Mr. Belasco, summoning together all of those superb resources that had previously been employed in staging almost everything from a rainstorm to the rising of the sun, produced an effect in this instance that for its very simplicity and fidelity to the smallest details, must stand as the last word in realism.

In planning this Childs' setting for the last act of "The Governor's Lady" instead of calling in his scenic artists and ordering them to paint a canvas scene, as most managers would have done, he wrote a letter to the campony that installs these restaurants and told them what he wanted, and negotiated for a complete restaurant equipment.

All of the fixtures, tables, chairs, hat and coat racks and stands, cash desk, cash register, cigar counter, coffee boilers, ovens, dishes, ice box and the cake cooker in the window were obtained from this company, and were installed exactly as if a new restaurant was being opened. It is complete even to the signs: "Watch Your Hat and Coat;" 'Not Responsible for Personal Property Unless Checked by the Management."

LILLIAN RUSSELL

Lillian Russell and her Feature Festival with forty famous specialty artists will hold forth at the La Crosse theater Saturday, November 22, matinee and night. The attraction, it is claimed, is the most expensive theatrical amusement on tour in America. Miss Russell's weekly financial exaction alone, 'tis said, would cover the cost of the most pretentious dramatic attraction, and the combined salaries of the enterprise, the manager declares, would more than finance the most extravagant musical comedy, comic opera and even most so-called grand opera companies. The organization as a whole is supposed to cost John Cort more than the expense of conducting any theatrical enterprise in the United States. The company travels in its own special private train of eight Pullman cars. Lillian Russell will sing one or two of the songs that made her famous as the queen of comic opera, and a new type of motion picture will depict the fair lady's daily routine in the propagation of health, youth and beauty. Incidentally, she will display the latest fashions in Paris and London gowns—a collection of stunning female fads and fancies the renowned beauty made during her summer vacation tour. Her so-called disrobing act is by no means as sensational as the newspapers report; she merely disrobes herself of outer garments—furs, coats, jackets, outing apparel, etc., donning and discarding these in her display of women's fashionable attire.

CROWDED HOUSES SEE "EAST LYNNE"

Th great old play "East Lynne" is drawing packed houses at the La Crosse theater, where the Van Dyke & Eaton company are giving such splendid performances of worthy plays. "East Lynne" will be the bill tonight and Thursday matinee and night."

Souvenir photos of Miss Elliott will be given free to everybody on Thursday matinee. The company will rest on Friday and Saturday.

Starting Sunday matinee, Bertha M. Clay's great play, "Thorns and Orange Blossoms," will be the bill, and the great vaudeville feature, Miss Ethel May, "The Mystery Girl," will answer questions free.

Miss May will be remembered by her wonderful work here some few years ago.

Duty Plainest at First Sight.

There is nothing like the first glance we get at duty, before there has been any special pleading of our affections or inclinations. Duty is never uncertain at first. It is only after we have got involved in the mazes and sophistries of wishing that things are otherwise than they are, that it seems indistinct. Considering a duty is often explaining it away.—F. W. Robertson.

JAP OFFICIALS HONOR REINSCH

Madison Professor Now Ambassador Guest at Banquet Where Dignitaries Gathered

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, the new American minister to China, who left for the far east several weeks ago, was a guest at a dinner given in his honor by the American Friends' association, an organization of Japanese educated in the United States and having for its purpose the furthering of more friendly relations between the two countries, at Uchisaiwai-Cho, Kojimachi-ku. Among thise attending were many of the Japanese officials of state, including the foreign minister, Baron Makino and Vice Minister Koike. All the speakers paid their tributes to Prof. Reinsch. The latter was the principal speaker of the evening.

In addressing the gathering of Japanese, Prof. Reinsch said it made him feel at home to be able to address the audience in English and feel that his remarks were fully understood. The Japanese Advertiser of October 25 quotes him as saying in concluding: "I shall never forget the evening's entertainment by this society on the first night I spent in the east, and especially as it represents the spirit of friendship existing between the two peoples."

Dr. Reinsch and his family party left the Japanese capital for Kobe, whence he proceeded by steamer for Shanghai.

WRIT OF ERROR IN BAKER LAW CASE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—A writ of error was issued by Chief Justice Winslow yesterday afternoon on petition of David S. Rose of Milwaukee, for the appeal of the Baker saloon license case to the United States supreme court. By this means it is hoped to continue the existence of the licenses in Milwaukee which the state supreme court declared were illegally granted. Milwaukee saloon men contributed for the expense of taking the case for final appeal.

Attorney Rose will return to Madison next Tuesday to file his bond and secure the certified copy of the record for transmission to Washington.

STUDENTS' PLAYS POOR

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—Four plays submitted for a prize in the junior play contest were criticised by the faculty dramatic committee at the state universiy as poor specimens of literary work for university students to turn out. None was considered of sufficient merit to warrant a prize. The committee consisted of Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, Prof. E. H. Gardner and Miss Gertrude E. Johnson of the English department.

Her Other Half.

The four-year-old twins, who had no playmates of their own age, were delighted when a little girl of three came to visit a neighbor. After the three children had played together for a time, the twins, hand in hand, went to their mother, and said, "Mother, where's the other one of her?"—Youth's Companion.

Judges Have to Listen to This.

A bombastic counsel was arguing a case before a jury, in the course of which he delivered himself of the following specimen of eloquence: "But, gentlemen, the whole subject is in the dark entirely, till we come to the testimony of Mr. B. Then it is that the cloud of doubt begins to crack, and the cat is let out of the bag."

DISCOVER TRUST IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 19.—Shrouded in utmost secrecy the probe of the local district attorney's office into the alleged "Milwaukee coal trust," continued today. When the examination of Milwaukee coal men recessed at noon neither the district attorney nor the coal men would reveal what had transpired at the morning session.

Assistant District Attorney Sloan issued the following statement:

"We have found the crime, but there is a question whether we can locate the criminals."

Asked whether he meant that conspiracy among eastern operators had been discovered Sloan said: "We may be able to work up the case right here in Wisconsin."

NAVAJO INDIANS MAY RUN AMUCK

New Mexican Tribesmen Defy Uncle Sam and Uprising Is Feared Today

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 19.—Dispatches today from Agent Shelton of the Ship Rock Indian reservation, state that the Navajo Indians encamped on Beautiful Mountain, are growing bolder in their defiance of the federal authority and that he fears a serious clash unless the government takes some drastic step.

The renegades threaten to attack the agency buildings which are under heavy guard. Several fires were observed during the night from Ship Rock and it is believed the war-like red men are endeavoring to attract others to their standard and all the old war dances of the tribe are being danced on the mountain, the medicine men leading in an effort to arouse their followers.

Government officials place great confidence in the ability of Brig. Gen. Hugh Scott to avoid trouble. He understands the Navajo language and is greatly revered by that tribe. Secretary of the Interior Lane last night ordered him to proceed at once from El Paso, where he commands the border troops.

POLICE CAPTAIN BROUGHT ON RUG

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 19.—Emphasizing the allegation that Gerald Murray, a reporter on the Milwaukee Free Press, was held in the city jail for five hours and was not given an opportunity to get bail, or see an attorney and a physician, attorneys for Murray resumed their case before the Milwaukee board of police and fire commissioners this afternoon.

His paper also alleges that Murray was badly beaten by Detective Captain Sullivan when he 'scooped" the department on an arrest.

To Remove Paper.

A good way to remove old wall paper is to use the following solution: A thick pasty solution should be made by adding flour and a few ounces of acetic acid. This pasty solution should be applied with a brush to the old wall paper in quantities. After a few minutes the old paper can be removed in great strips very easily and with very little dust or dirt.

WRECK SURVIVOR IS A SLAVER VICTIM

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Rose Mollood, a pretty 18 year old Jewish girl, and one of the Volturno disaster survivors, who was arrested in the flat of Harry Cohen, a salesman, early today, told the police a pitiful story that led federal white slave officers to start an investigation.

"I started for America from Kieff, Russia," said the girl through an interpreter. "When the Volturno burned, I lost all my savings and my little bag of clothes. When I landed in New York, I had no money and I knew just one man in America, Cohen, who is my second cousin. He sent me money to come to Chicago, and told me he would take care of me until I found work."

Cohen had been living with the girl for several days, according to the police. Officers of the United Jewish Charities declared they would drop the prosecution if Cohen consents to marry the girl.

JOHNSON-SPIKA WEDDING

The most brilliant affair of the season took place yesterday afternoon at Bohemian hall with the reception of Miss Emma Johnson and Rudolph Spika, who were married at the St. Wenceslaus parsonage, Rev. X. Till officiating.

About one hundred guests took part in the afternoon's program. Dancing was indulged in, and supper was served.

A man can't take a woman at her word if her word is "No."

PRESCRIPTION AIDS CHRONIC SUFFERERS

Sickness Caused by Impure Blood is Easily Relieved

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a doctor's prescription of many years, are a tonic that have been of the greatest benefit in obstinate diseases caused by impure blood. These pills build up the blood; the restored blood burns up the poisons and normal health follows. In no disease does the blood show more altering and thinning than in rheumatism. No permanent relief is possible until the blood is restored and the rheumatic poisons are cast out.

Good digestion is impossible without a supply of rich red blood. When the blood is thin and poor, the food remains undigested in the stomach and ferments, causing gas on the stomach. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and the stomach trouble disappears.

FRENCH DUELISTS' "HONOR" SATISFIED

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The honor of Pierre Loti, French writer, was avenged today when the Bulgarian challenger, Lieut. Torcum was twice wounded by Georges Breittmayer, one of the most expert duelists of Paris. The duel occurred in the park of Jules Du Mesnil, a director of the daily newspaper Rappel. The Bulgarian was wounded in the hand in the third round and in the breast in the sixth, which stopped the fighting. Breittmayer was unscratched.

New Phonograph Clock.

A phonograph clock has been perfected by Max Marcus, a German, after many years of labor. It not only keeps time to the second, but tells the time in a clear bartitone voice. "Four o'clock!" and "Four-thirty!" says the clock in loud, distinct but very pleasantly modulated tones and the half and full hours may be repeated at will by the pressing of a button. The quarters are not spoken.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Wheat started ¼c higher today, with a bullish cable, weakened a trifle in the early trading and then went back to about the opening prices. Trade here was only moderate.

Corn started with an advance of ¼c to ⅜c, the trade counting upon muggy weather to interfere with bringing the crop to market. Shortly after the opening prices fell, but shortly before noon there was a rally to the opening prices.

Oats started firm and higher with wheat and corn and dropped sharply when the early decline depressed the corn market. The rally later in corn brought oats futures back to about last night's closing prices.

Provisions were sharply higher today. The hog run at the Stock yards was lighter than anticipated and hog prices advanced, inspiring the gain in provisions.

Wheat futures made additional gains of ¼ to ⅜c and corn and oats closed at about noon prices.

Pork continued to gain until the close, other provisions closing at noon figures.

Record Carelessness.

The most careless will on record is probably the distinction to be claimed for that of a man name John McClellan of Armagh, Ireland, who left estate valued at £16,974 10s. 10d., made a will in which he appointed executors, but omitted to dispose of his property.

"Suburb."

When did the word "suburb" first find its way into the language? It is used in a recently discovered fourteenth century ordinance of the City Guild of Carpenters providing that the members should attend the funeral of anyone of the fraternity resident within the city "or in the suburbs." The natural inference is that even then it was part of the everyday talk of the citizens.—Pall Mall Gazette.

STRENGTHEN DEFENSE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 19.—Harvard coaches will devote the little time left before the Yale game Saturday to strengthen the Crimson defense against Yale formations. That was the schedule for today. It was the rule at yesterday's practice.

HORSE SHOW ON

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—With but one serious accident to mar it, the horse show swung into its fourth day today with all sorts of thrills from trained Shetland ponies to polo stunts scheduled on the program. Captain H. P. Parker, the English army officer whose collarbone was broken last night, when his horse, Grey Plover, shied at a hurdle, was resting easily today. Tonight one of the classiest events of the show will be staged in the international broad jump. Forty crack hurdlers are entered.

MIDDIES CONFIDENT

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 19.—The Middies were full of confidence today as a result of the backfield in yesterday's practice. The backs who will oppose the Army carried the ball the length of the field time and again against the scrubs. They average 180 pounds.

KNOCKOUT GETS DECISION

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 19—"Knockout" Brennan of Buffalo today holds a decision over Marty Rowan of the Future City Athletic club in a one-sided pounding match which went eight rounds.

PELKY STARTS TRAINING

CALGARY, Alberta, Nov. 19.—Arthur Pelkey started light training today for his bout with Gunboat Smith. Tommy Burns announced that under tentative arrangements the fight would be pulled off at San Francisco on New Year's day.

WISCONSIN SURE OF BIG VICTORY

Badger Team Expects Little Difficulty in Downing Maroons in Saturday Game

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—Football prospects in Wisconsin have gone up so high since Germany Schultz's return as assistant coach that to the enthusiastic fans the conflict with the Maroons Saturday no longer looks dubious. The big Michigan star arrived in Madison Monday and was out for the first practice as soon as he landed. He appeared in a football suit, and inspired a world of confidence in the team by jumping into the fight with his old style of work, instructing the men in meeting certain plays.

Although, Captain Tandberg and Ray Lange have been out of practice the last few days, they reappeared on the field this week and expect to start the game on Saturday. Added hope rests in the fact that Des Jardien, center of the Maroons, may not be able to play, for he was hurt badly in the Minnesota game and has been using crutches since.

Following a long practice yesterday afternoon, there will be no more scrimmage for the 'varsity. Signal drill will be followed today and possibly Thursday. The team will leave for Chicago Thursday evening and will probably engage in regular signal drill there on Friday.

The largest crowd that ever accompanied a football team to Chicago will make the trip Saturday. Two special trains will be run from Madison. Nearly the entire consignment of 1,000 tickets has been sold.

NORMAL FOOT BALL SEASON CLOSES HERE

The normal football season ended with the Platteville game Saturday, Nov. 15. It was thought the high school and normal would play next Saturday but Coach Horne did not want to take any chances of getting his men crippled before their Thanksgiving game with the Sparta highs, so they refused the normal's challenge.

The local normal school has played six games, winning two, tying two and losing two, thus finishing the season with a percentage of .500. They have piled up an aggregate score of 93 points to that of 44 by their opponents. They have no claim on all state honors since their defeat by Plateville, yet their record is an unusually good one. Coach Carter had only four experienced men on the squad at the beginning of the season yet he turned out a winning team. Prospects for a winner next year are unusually bright for only two men on the team this year will be lost by graduation.

Basket ball practice is now the order of Coach Carter. His first call was yesterday and twenty-seven men responded. Prospects are good for a strong team this year and the students are now crying for the basket ball title since the football team failed to bring the coveted name. The first game will be played with Kendall high school on December 5.

The indoor baseball team is fast founding into shape and they promise to upset some of the City league dope that is now in circulation.

The normal team will be present at the game between the Y. M. C. A. and the high school at the Y tonight.

TO SEASON CUBS

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Manager John Evers of the Cubs announced today that he will hike to the south about February 6, carrying with him the Cub pitchers and youngsters who appear to be in particular need of seasoning. The regulars will be asked to report at Tampico February 20.

Easy Answer

"I don't know what I would have done if it hadn't been for you," exclaimed the discharged prisoner.

"You'd have done time," was the dry comment of his attorney.—Yonkers Statesman.

CITY MAY ABSORB PUBLIC UTILITY

Manitowoc to Buy Light Company Under New Law Passed by 1913 Legislature

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—The city of Manitowoc will be able to purchase the properties of the Manitowoc Electric Light company for $137,500, according to the decision of the railroad commission announced today. In addition to this amount the city must pay for the materials on hand and improvements made in the plant since January 1 last. Three months' time is allowed for the making of the payment with interest at 6 per cent annually from the date of taking possession of the plant by the city.

Last November the commission was notified that the city of Manitowoc desired to take over the electric plant. A preliminary valuation was made last February. That valuation gave the cost of reconstructing the plant anew at $175,708. A complete analysis of the company's earnings is made by the commission and a comparative analysis is made of the valuation made by S. H. Matin of Chicago. The figures are over $40,000 lower than those contended for by the owners of the plant.

CROSS WINS BOUT

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Spectators of last night witnessed a fight between Will Cross, brother of Leach Cross, and Frankie Madden, the bowery champion, and are wondering today just when Frankie would come out from retirement. Cross literally pummelled the bowery boy until he was tired, but Madden, with a bulldog tenacity, came back for more until the final gong. The men fought at 143 pounds.

GRAFT ON TICKETS

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Charges that Northwestern university students secured blocks of seats for the Chicago-Wisconsin game here Saturday and disposed of them to speculators caused some ill feeling between Northwestern and Chicago undergraduates. Large blocks of $2 reserved seats were on sale down town today for $5 apiece.

BANGOR, WIS.

Miss Rae Stevens is spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. D. O. Olivier at St. Paul.

Mrs. Lafe Cass of Ferryville is visiting with relatives in the village.

Mrs. R. M. Jones spent several days with her parents at Tomah the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Fulton spent Sunday visiting friends.

Fire was discovered in the basement of the Merlo and Siedenberg implement shop Friday morning at 3:30. Alarm was immediately sent into the brewery and the volunteer fire department responded and soon had the fire under control. Most of the damage was done by smoke which rushed out of the windows and doors. The rooms up stairs occupied by Dr. Owen Evans and family, were damaged greatly by the water and smoke. The stock in the basement of E. Richter's store was also damaged. Both parties carried insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Siedenberg and daughter came up from West Salem and spent Sunday with the latter's parents.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual bazaar and chicken pie supper at the church parlor on Saturday, Nov. 29.

John Griffiths of Sparta, well known here, was taken to a La Crosse hospital last week, suffering from ulceration of the stomach.

The Baptist Sewing Circle met with Mrs. R. J. Lloyd at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Misses Vera Dowe and Mary Brown attended the Charity ball at LaCrosse Friday evening.

Mrs. Jack Friell departed last Wednesday for a month's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Bascomb, at Clark, S. D.

Deacon Jones of Burns is reported seriously ill.

Mrs. Z. Baebler was a visitor at La Crosse Monday.

A. Fuchs who was injured in a tussle with a vicious bull last Friday is able to be out again.

The Donnelly Stock company played to full houses the three nights they showed here.

GROWS PEARS ON HER IOWA FARM

M'GREGOR, Iowa, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Chase who lives on one of the hill farms near McGregor, has just gathered and marketed seven bushels of thoroughly matured pears. They were of the Kieffer and Lincoln varieties. Mrs. Chase has twenty pear trees which have been bearing for three years. She planted them seven years ago along with a hundred apple trees. In the heavy hailstorm which visited McGregor several years ago many of the apple trees were killed but the pear trees escaped without injury.

SPARTA WANTS GAME WITH GRAND RAPIDS

SPARTA, Wis., Nov. 19.—Oshkosh has practically turned the local team down on the football proposition and unless they change their attitude within the next twenty-four hours there will be no final championship game with them. Negotiations are under way for a game with Grand Rapids Saturday. Ie seems that they too have been turned down by Oshkosh. It is not known whether the game would be played on the local grounds or at Grand Rapids. There has been some talk as to there not being a Thanksgiving game with La Crosse but it was mostly rumor.
